Why This Is an Exciting Moment

Stage Entertainment is in the middle of a major technology transformation.

We recently insourced our entire ticketing operation. This means real technical challenges, real ownership, and real impact.

We now own and develop:

- Advanced ticketing systems serving B2C, B2B, and third-party sales channels
- Customer-facing digital platforms and mobile applications
- Marketing technology and eCommerce solutions
- Customer service systems and administrative processes
- APIs and integrations with external partners and internal systems

Our mission: Build a data-driven, AI-powered, personalized customer experience with a robust, scalable, secure architecture. We're becoming a tech company!

What Could This Bring You

- Work in a unique live entertainment environment and an international IT teams with global collaboration
- Freedom to investigate, build from scratch, and learn fast
- Responsibility and visible impact, even in a large organization
- A warm, inclusive culture that values curiosity and ownership
- Hybrid work in Valencia, with occasional international travel
