

Pre-enrollment period to the new edition of the MScTelecom Masters Degree is open

The Department of Communications of the UPV, launches the XI edition of the Master in Telecommunication Technologies, Systems and Networks #MScTelecom, the official Master that trains specialists in research and development in the field of telecommunications.

From May 30th to June 17th is open pre-registration period for new students. Pre-registration does not entail any cost if you don't enroll finally, it serves to assess your profile and tell you if you could be admitted or not in the Masters.

#MScTelecom is designed to be developed in an academic course of 60 ECTS and train highly qualified specialists in the areas of knowledge concerning the theory of signal and communications and telematics engineering.

The ordinary call preregistration is open from 30 May to 17 June 2016.

In addition, since 2014 the Master in Telecommunication Technologies, Systems and Networks #MScTelecom has a fully programme in English and also in Spanish.

The Master offers a personalized service to consult doubts related to their educational content, professional outputs to which you can choose, academic pre-registration and registration procedures etc. You can write us to this e-mail: mastercomunicaciones@posgrado.upv.es

Along with this, you can learn more about the Master in this information leaflet.