OBJECTIVE

The objective of our highly interactive staff week is to provide a comprehensive framework of knowledge that will empower participants not only to understand what dual studies in higher education actually means, but also to further discuss the implementation of dual education studies with greater efficacy. Furthermore, this week will facilitate the establishment of networks among professionals from across Europe and beyond. This will foster collaboration and the exchange of ideas. It is our understanding that Dual Study Programs perfectly address the requirements of the labor market by emphasizing relevant skills, qualifications, and graduate employability.

The week will also include a visit of the world heritage center Speyer and the German Wine Route.
